Southern Atlantian Archery Day

Join us in a Grand HUNT!

April 11, 12 and 13, 2008

It matters not the reason you loose your bow, ax or spear—be it for combat, food, sport or to protect your home from the denizens for the wild, Boonville North Carolina is the place to be! The woods and fields around Castle Elchenburg will be filled with all manner of beasts, all for your hunting pleasure!

This event is open to target archery, thrown weapons and atlatl. New-comers and beginners are welcome. Prizes will be given for each skill level. Plan to be challenged by a variety of stationary and moving targets!

$15-Adult, $18-Non-member, $10-teens (12 to 17), $5-child (6 to 11), 5yrs. & under free
Free camping with your registration. Showers and flush toilets. Wet site. Hotels near-by.
No feast is planned, but Roanwoulfe Tavern will offer delicious fare at reasonable prices. Other food can be found about five miles away in Yadkinville.

This event is brought to you by the Canton of Crois Brigitte and her friends in the Barony of the Sacred Stone, in the great Kingdom of Atlantia.
